

Call for Papers

The Canadian Journal of Human Rights (CJHR) is now accepting submissions for its sixth volume to be published in 2017.

The CJHR is published at Robson Hall, Faculty of Law at the University of Manitoba in association with the Canadian Museum for Human Rights.

The journal is a peer-reviewed forum for scholars to explore concerns in human rights and humanitarian law and policy relevant to Canadian society.

The CJHR welcomes submissions from scholars from diverse backgrounds of academic engagement.

Articles are published both online and in print. All articles will be made available, pursuant to our Open Access Policy, on our website. For manuscript submission requirements, please visit our website at cjhr.ca/submissions/manuscript-specifications.

Kindly send submissions via e-mail as attachments in Word to:

Dr. Donn Short, Editor-in-Chief
Canadian Journal of Human Rights
cjhr@umanitoba.ca

Authors should include full contact information (name, institution, mailing address, telephone) in the body of the e-mail.

There is no deadline for submissions and manuscripts are considered on a rolling basis for current and future volumes.

Call for Book Reviews

The Canadian Journal of Human Rights is also seeking reviewers for:

- 1) Dominique Clément, Human Rights in Canada: A History (Waterloo: Wilfred Laurier University, 2016).
- 2) Scott Straus, Fundamentals of Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention (Washington, DC: United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, 2016).
- 3) Rich Furman, Douglas Epps & Greg Lamphear, eds, Detaining the Immigrant Other: Global and Transnational Issues (New York: Oxford University Press, 2016).
- 4) Richard Carver & Lisa Handley, eds, Does Torture Prevention Work? (Liverpool: Liverpool University Press, 2016).

If you are a scholar interested in reviewing one of the books above, or would like to suggest a book, please contact Dr. Donn Short at cjhr@umanitoba.ca.
